THE PERFIN REVENUE STAMPS OF GREAT BRITAIN

By Jeff Turnbull

SECTION ONE

FOREIGN BILL STAMPS

The following pages have been put together with the intention of helping the collector of perfinned revenue stamps, it is by no means complete, hopefully collectors who have additional information will let me know the details, and more pages will be made up as and when.

As there is no present perfined Revenue cataloguing system I am adopting a new system, using the letter followed by two numbers and two decimal places.

I.E. A 23.01. Where the perfin is already catalogued in the New Gault Illustrated perfin catalogue on postage stamps, then this catalogue number will also be alongside. At this moment in time only different Reigns will be used, with an accompanying list of stamps on which the perfin has been seen.

A Typical entry will be as follows.

In use: Date range based on known dates.

Dates: Earliest and latest known dates from Documents or Cancellations.

Issues: Only different Reigns will be used QVic, EDV11, GV, GV1, QE11,

Ident: Company Name & address identified by Document or Cachet Cancellation.

Suspected Ident: Ø This symbol indicates a suspected Identity.

W D & Co

Where the perfin is indicated by Typed letters, the letters have been reported, but the die remains unknown. Information is welcome on any of these dies.

Where possible the illustration for each die has been taken from stamps and other catalogues. However a number of previously unknown dies have had to be scanned.

Edited and Produced by

Jeff Turnbull.

INTRODUCTION

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with Foreign Bill stamps, I will give the following short introduction.

Perfined Foreign Bill Stamps.
Foreign Bills were essentially bank drafts for transfer of money to a foreign country. Although the stamps were introduced in 1854, Permission to perfin them was only obtained on the 27th June 1870,

Note: - QVic perfined Foreign Bill stamps have been seen with earlier cancels, but only on perfin dies which have been used to perfin earlier postage stamps of the same Company. Permission to perfin postage stamps was issued earlier on 13-3-1868.

The stamps were used as a Tax on the dispatch of money overseas, hence the description Revenues. The Company perfin if on used stamps is usually cancelled by a manuscript cancel (manu) in Catalogue) or by a private rubber cancel (Cachet) most often in green, red, violet, or blue).

Combination pieces do exist, where you will find Foreign Bill stamps of Great Britain and Foreign Bill stamps of the country of destination, these are most common from India.

For the overprint collector there are also overprints of various Banks and Company's. (All known overprints to date are listed at the end of the catalogue).

Note: - Ref: - Stamp Duty act 1891.
Perfin QVic 1d, EDV11 1d, GV 1d & 2d, GV1 2d, & QE11 2d Postage stamps are also recorded used as Duty on the transfer of Money Overseas, QVic, EDV11 & GV £5 to £100. & GV1 £5 to £300. & QE11 £5 to £1500

(All reported postage stamps used as stamp duty in this catalogue have been seen used either on overseas money transfers (Cheques) or on Foreign Bills).

“SPG” TYPES.

The term “SPG” Type originates from the first discovery (1994) of these clamped together dies, which was made by our Catalogue Editor Roy Gault when looking at numerous Perfins with the letters “SPG”, each showing many variations. These would eventually become Cat No S5900.01v and S5900.02v.

The suffix “v” in the Catalogue Number alerts the collector that variations can be expected, in size, shape, and pin count.

A short explanation is that the “SPG” Types are single letters which are clamped together to produce the required initials as one die. The three letter type almost always reads down the stamp (with the Monarch’s head upright).

There are two basic types, with a change over date of approx 1906. The earlier type (1890-1906) are mostly 5 pins high, whereas the later type (1906-1930) are only 4 pins high. Both earlier and later types may be found with one, two, or three letters, with one known of the earlier type with four letters.

There are now 411 different G.B. Perfin dies recognised as “SPG” Types, but only one has so far been reported on Foreign Bill Stamps.

FOREIGN BILLS

Issues: - Queen Victoria (Longs).

To the editors knowledge the earliest perfins have only been found on the 1857 issue of the (Longs) colours of Lilac & Carmine, Wmk VR perf 14.
It is presumed that they can be found on all values.

This issue (perfined) should only be found used after 27th June1870 when the first permission was granted to perfin Foreign Bill stamps, however earlier cancels are known on the perfin dies which were also granted for the relevant Company's postage stamps. (Pre 1870).
(See Introduction).

NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA

The Calcutta City Banking Corporation was formed in 1863 as an Indian registered bank, changing its name to the National Bank of India (NBI) a few months later. Offices in London and Bombay followed in 1864 and 1865. Crucial to the Bank's future, its head office was transferred to London in 1866 and the Company was registered under the UK Companies Act, giving it much greater international potential, but it was a move that was fiercely contested for many years.

NBI remained with these three offices until 1870 when it sought to exploit opportunities in China with a branch in Hong Kong and, later, in Shanghai. Substantial losses threatened the Bank and the Chinese operations were eventually closed. Without neglecting its domestic market, NBI began to expand around the fringes of the Indian Ocean, particularly Aden and East Africa; by 1900 NBI had 19 branches and £10m of assets.

Steady expansion continued through the early 1900s and by the outbreak of World War I NBI was the seventh largest of the London-registered overseas banks. Growth continued during the War and by 1918 the Bank's assets were £33m with record profits of over £400,000. Around that time, detailed discussions took place with Lloyds Bank and agreement was reached in principle for Lloyds to acquire NBI but, according to the Bank's official history, the proposal was vetoed by 'the authorities'.

The inter-war years saw NBI stagnate, only two new branches were opened and there was no growth in the Bank's assets. More substantial change was to come after the Second World War. In August 1947 India was granted independence with all the turmoil that entailed in the Bank's main market. Undaunted, the following year NBI purchased Grindlays Bank from National Provincial Bank; Grindlays then had deposits of around £20m compared with over £70m for NBI.

C. J. Hambro & Son. Early History

Hambros was founded by the Danish merchant and banker Carl Joachim Hambro in London in 1839 as C. J. Hambro & Son. During the 1850s he was responsible for arranging various British Government loan stock issues enabling the bank to prosper.

Pre-War and World War II

After merging with the British Bank of Northern Commerce (owned by Enskilda Banken and a number of Scandinavian savings banks) in 1921 the name was changed to Hambros Bank, and the firm expanded. As a result, in 1926 a bigger head office was constructed at 41 Bishopsgate, where the bank remainded until 1988. The 1930 depression affected the bank's international business and it concentrated on domestic lending and Scandinavia. During World War II, Sir Charles Hambro raised finance for the exile Norwegian government and was also the head of the Special Operations Executive.

The Bank originated as the London branch of the Copenhagen firm of J. C. Hambro & Son (established ca. 1800) and was formerly known as C. J. Hambro and Son, 1839-1920, and amalgamated with the British Bank of Northern Commerce Ltd in 1920. The amalgamated Bank was known as Hambros Bank Limited from 1921. Its headquarters in the City of London were at 11 King William Street, ca. 1839-43; 70 Old Broad Street, 1843-1926; and 41 Bishopsgate from 1926.

Deutsche Bank (Berlin)

A short note here on the many various dies of the
Deutsche Bank (Berlin)

Over the next few pages you will see 16 different dies all accredited with this same user. In the Perfin Society's Illustrated Catalogue two (2) of them are listed as Variations,

D 0210.02Av
D 0210.02v

Deutsche Bank was a customer of Sidney Allchin & Co and the Illustrated Catalogue states that "The initialing was probably carried out on demand, using a perforating machine fitted with removable pins".

Over the years I have begun to build up a collection of these items, and I am not convinced that they are variations, especially D 0210.02Av the dies of which are far removed from one another, so I have listed them separately as : -
D 02.01Av• & D 02.02Av• although in line with the Illustrated Catalogue I have still retained the Av annotation.

Again with the D 0210.02v die I am not sure if these are variations, as one of the spacing's is constant on 19 different stamps D02.01v• and there are 4 stamps noted with the closer D 02.02v• spacing.
Again to be in line with the Illustrated catalogue I have retained the v annotation.

All of these variable dies are rather confusing to say the least, but rest assured that all different dies that have been found so far are listed

I would be pleased to hear from any collector who has any other variations of the "D B" dies that are found on Foreign Bill stamps.

G & A Worms

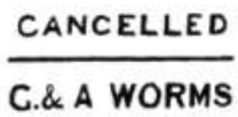

Salomon Benedikt Worms, head of the Banking House of G & A Worms in London, was created an Austrian Freiherr, and ennobled, by the Emperor 27 March 1871. Royal Licence to use the foreign title in Britain was granted on 10 Aug 1874. He lived at The Lodge, Egham, Surrey, and died 1882. He married Henrietta daughter of S M Samuel.

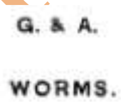

His eldest son George, 2nd Baron de Worms, was born in London on 16 Feb 1829 and died in England on 26 Nov 1912. He was married in 1860 to Louisa only daughter of Baron de Samuel, and had houses in London, Egham and Hove, Sussex, and was (among other things) Vice President of the Royal Society of Literature 1896-1900, and a "collector of classical and historical works".

Five (5) Different overprints to be found on GB Foreign Bill stamps.

Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation

The HSBC Group is named after its founding member, The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited, which was established in 1865 in Hong Kong and Shanghai to finance the growing trade between China and Europe.

The inspiration behind the founding of the Bank was Thomas Sutherland, a Scot who was then working as the Hong Kong Superintendent of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company. He realized that there was considerable demand for local banking facilities both in Hong Kong and along the China coast and he helped to establish the bank in March 1865. Then, as now, the bank's headquarters were at 1 Queen's Road Central in Hong Kong and a branch was opened one month later in Shanghai.
Throughout the late nineteenth and the early twentieth centuries, the bank established a network of agencies and branches based mainly in China and South East Asia but also with representation in the Indian sub-continent, Japan, Europe and North America. In many of its branches the Bank was the pioneer of modern banking practices. From the outset, trade finance was a strong feature of the bank's business with bullion, exchange and merchant banking also playing an important part. Additionally, the Bank issued notes in many countries throughout the Far East.

In 1959 the bank completed two important purchases, those of The British Bank of the Middle East (now HSBC Bank Middle East) and the Mercantile Bank. The British Bank of the Middle East had begun life as the Imperial Bank of Persia in 1889 but throughout the 1940s and 1950s had extended its sphere of operations and pioneered banking in the Gulf States. The history of Mercantile Bank stretched back to 1853—the year it was founded in Bombay (now Mumbai)—and by the 1950s it had a strong identity within Indian and other Asian markets.

In 1965 the Bank purchased a controlling interest in Hang Seng Bank, which had been established in Hong Kong in 1933. By the 1970s the policy of expansion by acquisition of subsidiaries with their own identities and specialization's was firmly in place.
The 1990s have seen further expansion and consolidation of the various businesses of the HSBC Group. In the United States, a joint venture, the Wells Fargo HSBC Trade Bank was formed in 1995. Elsewhere in the Americas in 1997, a new subsidiary Banco HSBC Bamerindus was established in Brazil; the acquisition of the Roberts Group (now called HSBC Bank Argentina SA) in Argentina was completed, and a 19.9 per cent interest in Mexico's Grupo Financiero Serfin was purchased. In 1999, HSBC Holdings Plc signed a memorandum of understanding with the Government of Korea for the acquisition of a controlling interest in Seoul Bank, one of the largest commercial banks in South Korea.
The HSBC Group now comprises a unique range of banks and financial service providers around the globe.

HUTH & Co

Frederick Huth first established his own business in Corunna, Spain, in 1805. He came to London in 1809 and set up business as a Merchant. In 1814 he took John Frederick Grüning into partnership and the resulting firm, Huth & Company, was formed. Throughout the 19th century the firm is described in London directories as “Merchants”, only from 1904 is the description “Bankers” added, although it is clear that the business always included Banking. From 1912 the firm had a fur warehouse, it also had a tea warehouse from 1921.

In 1936 the company was dissolved. The Banking business was acquired by the British Overseas Bank Ltd, and the fur business by C M Lampson & Co Ltd.

NOTE: -

The Charles Frederick Huth found in the 1881 census of Great Britain was born in Spain c1807 and must therefore be the son of Frederick Huth, the co-founder of “Huth & Co”.

Burns & McIver.
D & C MacIver.

In 1839 When Cunard could not sell stock in his steamship company in Britain or America, Napier approached a fellow shareholder in the City of Glasgow Steam-Packet Company, James Donaldson, a wealthy cotton broker. Donaldson consulted George Burns of Glasgow, who controlled the Belfast trade and was interested in shipping as well as the commission business. Burns "entertained the proposal cordially," inviting Cunard to meet David MacIver, an ambitious young Scot, who was the agent for small firms in the coastal trade. After various negotiations Burns persuaded some friends to form a co-partnership on 14 May 1839 to take over Cunard's mail contract. In a few days (270,000 was subscribed for "The Glasgow Proprietors in the British and North American Royal Mail Steam Packet Company." At first Cunard subscribed £55,000 for his 110 original shares but that amount was only gradually paid up; in the final arrangements of 23 May 1840 Cunard subscribed £67,500, George Burns £5,000, his brother James £5,000, and David and Charles MacIver £4,000.

Although historians of Nova Scotia, Scotland, or England assume that the partners in the enterprise from their own country deserves sole credit for the success of the steamship line, available evidence indicates that all important actions were undertaken after consultation among the major partners, although Burns superintended shipbuilding activities and financing, Cunard had special responsibility for negotiations with the British Government over contracts, and the MacIvers managed the operations of the fleet at Liverpool. A letter from David MacIver in Liverpool in 1841 chided Cunard for his low spirits over difficulties about the application to the British Government for a second contract and the low profits. MacIver argued that this had been an experimental year and we "are now arrived at that point where we must turn this experience to profit."

A ten-year contract was drawn up with Cunard, George Burns, and Charles MacIver, with a yearly subsidy of £145,000, provided for weekly voyages from Liverpool alternating to Boston and New York after 1 Jan. 1848. By that date both the company and the British Post Office realised the necessity of New York sailing's because of competition with the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company. Edward Cunard Jr was transferred to the New York office, and in 1849 married the daughter of a New York merchant. MacIver had become sole partner of D. & C. MacIver after his brother David's death in 1845, and in the next three decades became the leading figure among Liverpool shipowners. By 1867 the Burns, Cunard, and MacIver families owned all the shares in the company.

Standard Bank of South Africa

Standard Bank Group Limited is one of South Africa's largest financial services groups. It operates in 38 countries around the world, including 18 in Africa.

History

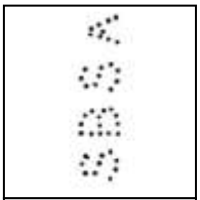

A group of businessmen led by John Paterson formed the name Standard Bank of British South Africa in 1862. The bank started operations in 1863 in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, and soon after opening it merged with several other banks including the Commercial Bank of Port Elizabeth, the Colesberg Bank, the British Kaffrarian Bank and the Fauresmith Bank.
It was prominent in financing and development of the diamond fields of Kimberley in 1867. The word "British" was dropped from the title in 1883. When gold was discovered on the Witwatersrand, the Bank expanded northwards and on 11 October 1886 the Bank started doing business in a tent at Ferreira's Camp (later to be called Johannesburg), thus becoming the first Bank to open a branch on the Witwatersrand gold fields. On 1 November 1901 a second branch was opened in Eloff Street of Johannesburg.
From the 1890s through the 1910s the Bank opened offices across Africa although some of them were unsustainable and subsequently had to be closed. In 1912 it opened a branch in New York. By the mid-1950s, Standard Bank had around 600 offices in Africa. In 1962, a bank with the name Standard Bank was registered as a South African company, a subsidiary of the main London-based Standard Bank. In 1965, Standard Bank merged with the Bank of West Africa expanding its operations into Cameroon, Gambia, Ghana, Nigeria, and Sierra Leone. When the parent Bank merged in 1969 with Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China and the combined bank became known as Standard Chartered Bank, the Standard Bank Group was established as Standard Bank Investment Corporation - the holding company of The Standard Bank of South Africa Limited. Standard Chartered sold its 39% stake in Standard Bank Group in 1987, transferring complete ownership of the holding company to South African investors.
In 2006, Standard Bank bought BankBoston Argentina expanding its operations into this country. On 21 August 2007 Standard Bank Group acquired controlling interest in IBTC Chartered Bank. This gave subsidiary StanbicIBTC Bank Nigeria Limited significant presence in the Nigerian market. Also in August 2007, Standard Bank Group acquired a 67% share of the Turkish bank Dundas Ünlü Securities and now operates in Turkey under the name of Standard Ünlü.
In October 2007 the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China acquired a stake of about 20% in Standard Bank for US$5.5bn. Half the stake will come from ICBC acquiring existing shares and half from new shares. ICBC will also get two seats on the board of directors. However, it appears that the South African Reserve Bank will not permit ICBC to acquire more than 25% of Standard Bank's equity.

Samuel Montagu & Co

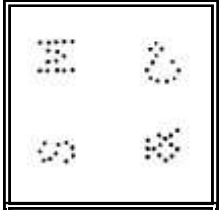

One of Joseph Slopers earliest customers was Samuel Montagu,
(Or was it Montagu Samuel?) who was the user of the following perfin dies of “SM/&C^{o}” Dies S 4920.01, S 4920.03, S 4920.03aM, are mostly to be found reading vertically up the stamp, Whereas Dies S 4920.04M, S 4920.07, are to be found reading horizontally across the stamp. There is also a private company cachet to be found canceling the early Queen Victoria Longs issues. (See below).

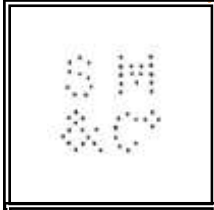

S 4920.01

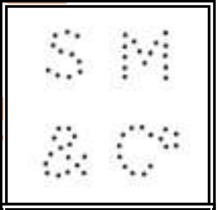

S 4920.03

S 4920.03aM

S 4920.04M

S 4920.07

In Liverpool on 21st December 1832, Henrietta Samuel gave birth to her second son, which she and her husband Louis decided to name Montagu. Whilst the child was still young they changed their minds, for reasons best known to themselves, and reversed his names and began to call him by his surname of Samuel.

At thirteen years of age he obtained employment with his brother-in-law, a Foreign Banker in Lombard Street London. Moving about a bit, he eventually opened his own Bullion Merchant, Foreign Exchange and Banking business in February 1853. His eldest brother, Edwin was taken in as a partner, the firm being known as Samuel & Montagu.

In 1862 the name of the concern was changed to Samuel Montagu & Company. A year later offices were found at 60 Old Broad Street London, in the same year he was created Baron Swaythling. In 1894 he obtained a royal license to change his name to Samuel Montagu, he was a very active and philanthropic member of the Jewish community, he died on the 12th January 1911.

The earliest dated perfin seen is 26-7-1869 and this being of the style constructed to avoid the Queens profile (Die S 4920.01), It was a rather prolific perfin on the Queen Victoria surface printed issues, it seems to have been dispensed with during the early 1880s, my latest date recorded is 22-9-1882 on a Queen Victoria 3/- Foreign Bill stamp.

Vivian Family of Swansea

In c1800, John Vivian came to Swansea from Cornwall and set up a copper smelting works at Penclawdd, Glamorganshire. In 1809, the works moved to Hafod. The company of Vivian and Sons was established and operated both the Hafod works and the White Rock Copper Works in the Lower Swansea Valley. The White Rock Copper Works were established in the Lower Swansea Valley in 1737 by John Hoblyn. After various operators, they were operated by Williams, Foster and Company and Vivian and Sons until 1870-1874 (working lead and silver), and just Vivian and Sons c1874-1924.
By the 1830s, Vivian and Sons held a 20% share in the copper market, rising to 27% in the late 1830s.In 1835, John Henry Vivian, John Vivian's son, introduced zinc smelting, and in 1838 the firm took over the smelting works of the English Copper Company at Margam. In 1842, John Vivian's grandson, Henry Hussey Vivian entered the business, and improved the art of zinc smelting by the introduction of new furnaces and helped to develop the firm's collieries.
Demand for non-ferrous metals rose in the 1880s and 1890s as copper was used in the generation and transmission of electricity, which ensured the growth of Vivian and Sons. They secured their own ore supplies and invested in mining, but they mostly turned out to be failures. In the 1890s-1900s, traditional smelting companies such as Vivian and Sons suffered as competition from companies working with their own sources of ore supply. Vivian and Sons became a limited company in 1914, and although they made large profits during World War 1, they suffered heavy losses afterwards in the post war depression. In 1924, Vivian and Sons amalgamated with the other major copper smelting firm in Swansea, Williams Foster and Company and Pascoe Grenfell and Sons Limited, to form British Copper Manufacturers' Limited. This was taken over in 1927 by Yorkshire Imperial Metals Limited, a joint company of Yorkshire Metals and Imperial Chemical Industries Limited (ICI).
The Vivian family were an influential family in Swansea and owned both Clyne Castle and the Singleton Abbey estate, which was the Swansea home of the Vivian family, After the death of Henry Hussey in 1894 the Vivian family's links with both Swansea and Singleton Abbey began to loosen, especially after a terrible fire at the Abbey in 1896. Finally the house and estate were sold in 1919.

Personal notes regarding the description of "Overprint" & "Hand stamp"

If you are a collector of these overprints, Hand Stamps, you will find that many Catalogues refer to them as "Pre-cancels" and initially I also made the same reference.

However over the years that I have been collecting I have had the opportunity to examine many used Foreign Bills with overprinted stamps attached, and without exception every one examined has been further cancelled by either a manuscript signature or date, or by a Company cachet.

This being the case, then the actual overprint as such is an overprint and not a cancel. even the overprints with CANCELLED printed on them are in my opinion Security overprints, just like the Commercial overprints on Postage stamps.

I also believe that the overprints were printed onto the stamps whilst in the mint sheet again like the Commercial overprints on postage stamps, and were printed in this way as an anti theft devise.

The Hand Stamps, I would considered to be cancellations rather than overprints.

So in conclusion it is my personal view that the overprints are true security overprints and only the hand stamps are a cancel as such. All hand stamps featured below are marked.

Jeff Turnbull.
